To Rochambeau parents and guardians:

The Before-and-After-School Program will once again fund an after-school opportunity for students to complete their homework and prepare for any upcoming assessments. I am pleased to announce that we are continuing this program and have numerous teachers interested in participating.

Our plan is to allow any student the opportunity to complete work after school from 3:00pm until 4:30pm in the Media Center, free of charge. During this time, one or two certified teachers (determined by the total number in attendance) will supervise students. To be clear, this is not a tutoring session but an opportunity for students to complete work in a quiet setting.

The Homework Club is scheduled to begin on Monday, September 12, 2011. We plan to hold sessions on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays until early-June. If school is not in session, cancelled unexpectedly, or closed early due to any reason, the planned afternoon session will also be cancelled. Days before holidays, vacations and/or extended weekends are also not scheduled.

Work completion is a significant factor in determining any student's success at both the middle school and high school level. We feel this is a wonderful opportunity that will benefit students and hope you will encourage your child to attend. R.M.S. teachers will be contacting parents/guardians individually if they feel a particular student would benefit academically by attending these sessions.

If your child plans to attend, the expectation will be that they arrive promptly at 3:00p.m. after waiting in the All Purpose Room from 2:45-3:00p.m. and that they are picked up no later than 4:30p.m. If your child needs to leave prior to 4:30p.m., you must come in the building and pick them up from the Media Center. Please be aware, as with all school events/activities, all school rules and behavioral expectations apply.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

With regards,

Anthony R. Salutari Jr.
