

CONNECTICUT SECONDARY TRANSITION SYMPOSIUM: Transition to College & Careers

~ SAVE THE DATE ~

The University of Connecticut Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD), the Connecticut Department of Rehabilitation Services (DORS), the Connecticut State Department of Education, and the State Education Resource Center (SERC) are hosting the 3rd Annual Symposium focused on helping school districts improve their secondary transition practices. For the first time, the symposium will include sessions just for students, as well as families and professionals.

Topics include, but not limited to:

- Transition Assessment
- Person-Centered Planning
- Creating Effective Transition IEPs
- Assistive Technology
- Self Advocacy/Soft Skills
- Employment Options
- Working with Adult Service Agencies
- Transition for Individuals with ASD
- WIOA
- Preparing for College

Who Should Attend?

Parents/Families/Caregivers along with their Middle and/or High School Students with Disabilities, Transition Specialists, Special Education Teachers, Vocational/Career Teachers, and School Administrators

June 21, 2017 8:30am - 5:30pm & June 22, 2017 8:30am - 4:30pm
Gateway Community College
20 Church Street, New Haven CT

For more information, please contact:

Missy Wrigley at Wrigley@ctserc.org or Dr. Nicholas Gelbar at gelbar@uchc.edu

Sponsored By:

